Revenge of the Pink Panther

Presented by
Forest Theater Guild at Forest Theater Guild

June 29, 2010

Inspector Clouseau is thought to have been assassinated. But never fear, these reports have been fabricated as part of a plan to capture the notorious head of the French underworld.

To Kill a Mockingbird

Presented by
The Western Stage at Hartnell College

June 4-June 27, 2010

To Kill a Mockingbird Adapted by Christopher Segal From the novel by Harper Lee. Millions have read this wonderful novel and millions more have seen the Academy Award winning movie which starred Gregory Peck. Now, America's most beloved novel comes to life in this faithful stage adaptation of the story of a father's love for his children as seen through the eyes a lovable tomboy named Scout, who is fascinated with all the people that live in her small southern town. To Kill a Mockingbird is a beautiful American story of dignity, of tolerance and of the difficulties growing up in a rural community during the great depression.
